

GEOLOGICAL ENGINEERING, DOCTORAL MINOR

Students from departments outside of the Geological Engineering (GLE) Program in the Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering can receive a PhD minor in geological engineering.

The requirements for an external minor in Geological Engineering can be viewed on the Requirements tab (p.). The minor must be approved by geological engineering faculty in the Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering. To learn more or receive a copy of the minor approval form, please contact the program admissions team.