The MS Information admits students to its master's programs once a year for a start in the fall semester. Fall admissions deadlines are as follows:

- Full consideration deadline for iSchool MS Information scholarships is February 15.
- Full consideration deadline for admission is March 1.
- Applications submitted after the fall deadline are considered on a space available basis.

The UW Madison Graduate School requires a bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited US institution, or a comparable degree from an international institution. A minimum undergraduate grade-point average (GPA) of 3.00 (on a 4.00 scale) in the last 60 earned credit hours is required.

Application evaluation criteria include academic abilities, professional promise, leadership and community engagement. An undergraduate program that includes breadth in liberal arts and sciences is required. Any major is acceptable. Prior work experience related to information and computing professions is useful, but is not required.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

International degree-seeking applicants must prove English proficiency. The Information School follows the Graduate School's rules regarding English proficiency exams. See the Graduate School website (<https://grad.wisc.edu/apply/requirements/>) for updated information.
