GRADUATE SCHOOL RESOURCES

Resources to help you afford graduate study might include assistantships, fellowships, traineeships, and financial aid. Further funding information (<https://grad.wisc.edu/funding/>) is available from the Graduate School. Be sure to check with your program for individual policies and restrictions related to funding.

PROGRAM RESOURCES

Financial support is provided to all graduate students in the Pharmaceutical Sciences PhD program through a combined mechanism of fellowships, teaching assistantships, research assistantships, and training grant appointments. Financial support includes a stipend, full tuition remission (waiver), and most of the cost of reasonably priced, comprehensive health insurance; and extends for the full duration of a student's graduate study as long as they retain good academic standing and a faculty advisor. In addition, first-year students typically are provided $2,000 in flexible funds to aid in the transition to Madison. Additionally, the program awards travel grants to several students every year to support their attendance at scientific conferences and meetings. For more details, see this program-specific funding page (<https://pharmacy.wisc.edu/academics/pharmsci/tuition-financial-aid/>).
