

PHYSICAL THERAPY, DPT

Fostering education and research to meet the physical therapy needs of the people in the State of Wisconsin and beyond.

At the University of Wisconsin–Madison Doctor of Physical Therapy Program, we prepare students to enter the workforce as generalist practitioners, equipped to provide interprofessional, evidence-based, quality care through the roles of clinician, educator, researcher, administrator, and consultant. Our program provides a welcoming, collaborative environment, which offers an integrative, team-taught curriculum bolstered by an emphasis on leadership, service, and professional behaviors.

Visit our webpage for more information about the Physical Therapy Program and admissions requirements. (<https://www.med.wisc.edu/education/physical-therapy-program/>)