

TRADITIONAL TRACK

The Traditional VISP Track (<https://visp.wisc.edu/>), welcomes nondegree international students for short-term study on our campus. VISP participants are admitted as University Special students to take UW–Madison coursework.

Traditional VISP track students select courses offered across the offerings at UW–Madison. Depending on course availability, students can choose to focus on one or two academic areas or try courses in several departments to create the right schedule for them.