

CONSUMER MARKETPLACE STUDIES, BS

Admissions to the Consumer Marketplace Studies BS have been suspended as of spring 2024 and will be discontinued as of summer 2032. If you have any questions, please contact the department.

Consumer Marketplace Studies provides an opportunity for students to complete their degree at a distance. This option is ideal for returning students with some college credits who would like to complete their undergraduate degree in a flexible online format, with no on-campus attendance required. Program emphasis is on researching, understanding, and improving the global customer experience. Topics include retailing, consumer behavior, and consumer research and analysis. Graduates will be prepared to meet industry demand for employees with strong analytic and decision-making skills, who can redefine the way companies empathize and engage with their customers.

ADVISING AND CAREERS

ADVISING AND CAREERS ACADEMIC ADVISING

Each UW–Madison Online student is assigned an academic and career (AC) advisor (<https://online.wisc.edu/academic-career-coach/>). The AC advisor will support the academic and personal success of each student by partnering with Human Ecology advisors in the Student Academic Affairs & Career Development Office (SAA), to assist students as they identify and clarify their educational goals, develop meaningful academic plans, and pursue their own Wisconsin Experience. To find out about other ways UW Madison's campus supports online learners, visit the Academic Support Services page. (<https://oss.wisc.edu/support-services/>)

CAREER DEVELOPMENT

Active engagement in the career development process is a vital component of a student's personal growth in college and future success as a lifelong learner, professional, and global citizen. AC advisors (<https://online.wisc.edu/academic-career-advisor/>) help prepare students for life post-graduation through individual and group advising. The Office of Online Student Success (OSS) (<https://oss.wisc.edu/>) also provides a number of career resources (<https://oss.wisc.edu/resumes/>) for online learners.
