

KOREAN LANGUAGE AND CULTURE, BS

Students declared in the Korean Language and Culture major are immersed in the vibrant and globally influential world of Korea. As Korea emerges as a major economic, political, and cultural force, understanding its language, history, and society is more crucial than ever. Korea's significance continues to grow: its dynamic economy, strategic geopolitical role, and remarkable cultural output—from the global arts phenomenon of Hallyu ("Korean Wave") to innovative lifestyle trends—are reshaping international landscapes. The Korean language is recognized as a critical language for U.S. security, and Korean companies are making significant investments across the United States.

This major is thoughtfully designed to provide students with a comprehensive understanding of Korean civilization, preparing them for a diverse range of rewarding career paths. The program's rigorous curriculum provides instruction in Korean language, linguistics, history, literature, film, gender studies, and social sciences. This interdisciplinary approach ensures a holistic and profound engagement with Korean culture.

Students will have the opportunity to participate in cutting-edge research with UW–Madison's esteemed faculty, renowned for their expertise in various aspects of Korean studies.

Students in this major cultivate critical skills essential for success:

- advanced abilities in analyzing and synthesizing information from diverse sources;
- producing well-structured and sophisticated academic writing;
- engaging effectively in intercultural communication;
- advanced linguistic proficiency in both English and Korean;
- conducting independent research;
- deep cultural sensitivity;
- ability to interpret complex texts and cultural phenomena with nuance and insight.

HONORS IN THE MAJOR

Students may declare Honors in the Major in consultation with the undergraduate advisor.

HONORS IN THE MAJOR REQUIREMENTS

To earn Honors in the Major, students must satisfy both the requirements for the major (above) and the following additional requirements:

- Earn a 3.300 University GPA
- Earn a 3.300 GPA for all courses accepted in the major
- Complete the following coursework, with a grade of B or better:
 - Either ASIAN 699 or another Capstone course (see list above) of 3–4 credits (excluding ASIAN 681 or ASIAN 682 or ASIAN 692) with the professor under whose guidance a student intends to write a thesis. This course must be taken before ASIAN 681.
 - Students who complete ASIAN 699 for the Capstone requirement will follow the department procedure for obtaining consent to enroll in a Senior Honors Thesis supervised by the faculty. Students must contact the undergraduate advisor for this major to initiate this process.
- A two-semester Senior Honors Thesis in ASIAN 681 and ASIAN 682, for a total of 6 credits.

UNIVERSITY DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

Total Degree To receive a bachelor's degree from UW–Madison, students must earn a minimum of 120 degree credits. The requirements for some programs may exceed 120 degree credits. Students should consult with their college or department advisor for information on specific credit requirements.

Residency Degree candidates are required to earn a minimum of 30 credits in residence at UW–Madison. "In residence" means on the UW–Madison campus with an undergraduate degree classification. "In residence" credit also includes UW–Madison courses offered in distance or online formats and credits earned in UW–Madison Study Abroad/Study Away programs.

Quality of Work Undergraduate students must maintain the minimum grade point average specified by the school, college, or academic program to remain in good academic standing. Students whose academic performance drops below these minimum thresholds will be placed on academic probation.

5. Produce effective academic writing in English, critically evaluating and synthesizing information from various sources in both English and the target language.

FOUR-YEAR PLAN

FOUR-YEAR PLAN

This Four-Year Plan is only one way a student may complete an L&S degree with this major. Many factors can affect student degree planning, including placement scores, credit for transferred courses, credits earned by examination, and individual scholarly interests. In addition, many students have commitments (e.g., athletics, honors, research, student organizations, study abroad, work and volunteer experiences) that necessitate they adjust their plans accordingly. Informed students engage in their own unique Wisconsin Experience by consulting their academic advisors, Guide, DARS, and Course Search & Enroll for assistance making and adjusting their plan.

ADVISING AND CAREERS

DECLARE OR CANCEL THIS PROGRAM

Please follow the process described on the Asian Languages and Cultures website (<https://alc.wisc.edu/advising/>).

ADVISING

Rachel Weiss is the advisor for the undergraduate majors and certificates in the Department of Asian Languages and Cultures, helping students explore the degree options, prepare for Study Abroad, and advance through their academic plan. Schedule an appointment with Rachel in Starfish (<https://wisc.starfishsolutions.com/starfish-ops/dl/instructor/serviceCatalog.html?bookmark=connection/10715/schedule>).

Students interested in this major have dedicated guidance from our full-time undergraduate advisor. Flexible advising sessions are conveniently available through the Starfish system, accommodating various time zones and student schedules to ensure every student receives the personalized support they need.

Talking with your academic advisor is very important; it can make the difference in getting the courses you want and meeting your graduation goals. Advisors help students plan how to complete more than one major or certificate. They also share more information about course content, which courses fit best with your interest areas, and what kinds of courses might work best with your learning style.

SUCCESSWORKS

SuccessWorks (<https://successworks.wisc.edu/>) at the College of Letters & Science helps you turn the academic skills learned in your classes into a fulfilling life, guiding you every step of the way to securing jobs, internships, or admission to graduate school.

Through one-on-one career advising, events, and resources, you can explore career options, build valuable internship and research experience, and connect with supportive alumni and employers who open doors of opportunity.

These scholarships provide up to $20,000 to U.S. undergraduate students to study abroad in areas of the world that are critical to U.S. interests and underrepresented in study abroad, including Africa, Asia, Central & Eastern Europe, Eurasia, Latin America, and the Middle East. The countries of Western Europe, Canada, Australia, and New Zealand are excluded. (Full list of preferred countries (<https://borenawards.org/eligible-programs/#countries>)) Additionally, all programs must include formal study of an appropriate foreign language. (Full list of preferred languages (<https://borenawards.org/eligible-programs/#languages>)).

Critical Language Scholarship Program (<http://www.clscholarship.org/>)

Campus Representative: Sarah Linkert (awards@iris.wisc.edu)

The Critical Language Scholarship Program is part of the U.S. Department of State, Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs. It is a fully funded overseas intensive language and cultural immersion program for American undergraduate and graduate students. With the goal of broadening the base of Americans studying and mastering critical languages and to build relationships between the people of the United States and other countries, the Critical Language Scholarship Program provides opportunities to a diverse range of students from across the United States at every level of language learning. Critical Language Scholarship Program languages are: Arabic, Chinese, Hindi, Indonesian, Japanese, Korean, Persian, Portuguese, Russian, Swahili, Turkish, and Urdu.

The Critical Language Scholarship Program seeks participants with diverse interests, from a wide variety of fields of study, backgrounds, and career paths, with the purpose of representing the full diversity of the United States. Thus, students from all academic disciplines, including business, engineering, law, medicine, science, social sciences, arts, and humanities are encouraged to apply.
