ECONOMIC ANALYTICS, CERTIFICATE

The Department of Economics is happy to announce its Certificate in Economic Analytics. When analyzing data, economists use many of the same statistical tools as other disciplines. However, economists have a tradition of formally combining data analysis with economic models, giving a different perspective on data and how to think about data analysis. This certificate will introduce non-Economics majors to this economic approach to data analytics.

An economist's approach to data analysis has two distinguishing features. First, economists traditionally interpret observational data through the lens of an economic model. This often leads to an explicit derivation of the data-generating process, typically involving individual optimization. Second, economists tend to focus on identification and causal inference more than many other disciplines. This involves looking for combinations of data and empirical approaches that allow empirical relationships to be interpreted causally.

This certificate will introduce students to this perspective and these tools by teaching students a mix of microeconomic theory, statistics and econometrics, and hands-on experience analyzing real data.

HOW TO GET IN

HOW TO GET IN

There are no prerequisites to declaring the certificate; students are encouraged to declare as soon as they are comfortable. Declaration of the certificate occurs via an online form, but students are encouraged to schedule a meeting with an Economics advisor.

Economics majors are not eligible to declare this certificate.

REQUIREMENTS

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE CERTIFICATE

The certificate requires at least 14 credits, from:

Code Complete one on	Title tion from each category:	Credits
Microeconomics (complete one course):
ECON 301	Intermediate Microeconomic Theory	3-4
ECON 311	Intermediate Microeconomic Theory - Advanced Treatment
Statistics (complete one option):		4-8
ECON 310	Statistics: Measurement in Economics
STAT 240 & STAT 340	Data Science Modeling I and Data Science Modeling II
STAT 303 & STAT 333	R for Statistics I and Applied Regression Analysis
Econometrics (com	4

Total Credits		14
ECON 695	Topics in Economic Data Analysis
ECON 570	Fundamentals of Data Analytics for Economists
ECON 460	Economic Forecasting
Data-Related Economics Elective (complete one course):		3-4
ECON 410	Introductory Econometrics
ECON 400	Introduction to Applied Econometrics

RESIDENCE AND QUALITY OF WORK

- · Minimum 2.000 GPA on all certificate courses
- · At least 7 credits must be taken in residence at UW-Madison

CERTIFICATION COMPLETION REQUIREMENT

This undergraduate certificate must be completed concurrently with the student's undergraduate degree. Students cannot delay degree completion to complete the certificate.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

LEARNING OUTCOMES

- 1. apply microeconomic models to understand and interpret individual behavior and market outcomes as the result of individual optimization
- 2. estimate the value of unknown parameters and test theories using formal hypothesis tests
- 3. summarize the conditions required for a statistical association to represent a causal relationship; evaluate the extent to which those conditions hold in particular settings; interpret the results when those conditions don't hold
- 4. download, clean, and analyze large economic datasets using modern statistical software

ADVISING AND CAREERS

ADVISING AND CAREERS ACADEMIC ADVISING

If you are wondering how this certificate can fit into your academic plans or help with your career goals, be sure to meet with an advisor. Our academic advisors (https://econ.wisc.edu/undergraduate/ find-academic-advising/) can help you create an academic plan and ensure you are making the most of your academic experience. ECONOMICS CAREER DEVELOPMENT OFFICE

The Economics Career Development Office (https://econ.wisc.edu/ careers/) (ECDO) provides career advising to help economics students explore career options and search for jobs and internships including reviewing application materials (cover letter and resume). Career advisors work with students to develop an individualized job/internship strategy based on the student's background and career goals. Career advising is open to declared economics majors, anyone considering majoring in economics, or students pursuing the Economic Analytics certificate who would like economics-specific career advice. Set up an appointment (https://econ.wisc.edu/careers/get-career-advice/) or email your questions to econcareers@ssc.wisc.edu.

L&S CAREER RESOURCES

Every L&S major opens a world of possibilities. SuccessWorks (https://successworks.wisc.edu/) at the College of Letters & Science helps students turn the academic skills learned in their major, certificates, and other coursework into fulfilling lives after graduation, whether that means jobs, public service, graduate school or other career pursuits.

In addition to providing basic support like resume reviews and interview practice, SuccessWorks offers ways to explore interests and build career skills from their very first semester/term at UW all the way through graduation and beyond.

Students can explore careers in one-on-one advising, try out different career paths, complete internships, prepare for the job search and/or graduate school applications, and connect with supportive alumni and even employers in the fields that inspire them.

- SuccessWorks (https://careers.ls.wisc.edu/)
- Set up a career advising appointment (https://successworks.wisc.edu/ make-an-appointment/)
- Enroll in a Career Course (https://successworks.wisc.edu/careercourses/) - a great idea for first- and second-year students:
 - INTER-LS 210 L&S Career Development: Taking Initiative (1 credit)
 - INTER-LS 215 Communicating About Careers (3 credits, fulfills Comm B General Education Requirement)
- Learn about internships and internship funding (https://successworks.wisc.edu/finding-a-job-or-internship/)
 - INTER-LS 260 Internship in the Liberal Arts and Sciences
- Activate your Handshake account (https://successworks.wisc.edu/ handshake/) to apply for jobs and internships from 200,000+ employers recruiting UW-Madison students
