CERTIFICATE DIRECTOR

Anthony Cerulli (<https://alc.wisc.edu/staff/anthony-cerulli/>), Professor of South Asian Studies

Anthony's main fields of research are medicine and religion. In much of his teaching and writing he combines ethnography, history, and philology to explore these fields in South Asia, although his work also draws from and contributes to discussions in the medical and health humanities more broadly. Exhibitions and publications via Anthony's ongoing photo-ethnography project, "Manuscriptistan," explore links between art-making, aesthetics, and the history of knowledge production in India.
